SHARE CHRIST WITH THE WORLD

By Brian Blackwell

Message staff writer

RUSTON, La. (LBM) - Louisiana Baptists were encouraged to embrace an evangelistic mindset in at home and abroad during ECON 2024, held in the facilities of Temple Baptist Church, Ruston, Jan. 22-23.

ECON featured Louisiana Baptist pastors, seminary professors, a representative from the International Mission Board, a comedian and other evangelism associates from across North America.

The event also included times of worship led by the Temple Baptist praise and worship team and Charles Billingsley, an award-winning Christian contemporary artist, as well as breakout sessions.

GEORGE LEE

George Lee IV, minister of community engagement at Temple Baptist, reminded Louisiana Baptists to develop a heart of service and win others to Jesus.

"How badly do we want to win as a body of believers?" said Lee, drawing from 1 Corinthians 9:19-23. "A win is seeing somebody who has a one-way ticket to hell being redeemed and reconciled to the Father by the power of the Gospel."

He reminded Louisiana Baptists that they cannot win those they do not serve, they cannot serve everyone the same way and they cannot serve God without serving people.

"Every day you wake up you are on a mission trip," he said. "Your mindset ought to be how can I contextualize the Gospel to win somebody. Lord, who are you calling me to reach?"

Louisiana Baptist Evangelism/Church Growth Team Director Keith Manuel challenged the crowd at ECON to go out into the world and share the Gospel.

ALEXANDRIA, La. (LBM) -The first meeting of the Church Insurance Advisory committee, Jan. 11, resulted in an agreement to develop a communication plan to urge congregations to participate in the data collection phase of the effort to establish a church selfinsurance program in Louisiana.

"Pastors need to know that submitting the information is as easy as calling their insurance agents and asking them to send a copy of their present policy and a five-year history of claims," said Kyle Acklin, Monroe-area president with Arthur J. Gallagher & Co., an insurance, risk management and consulting firm.

The documents may be mailed directly to:

Alternatively, the forms may be sent via FAX, (318) 322-3172.

The participants in the inaugural meeting included pastors, attorneys and others with a wide perspective on the insurance crisis that has plagued churches after the state was pummeled in 2020-2021 by Hurricanes Laura, Delta, Zeta and Ida.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (LBM) – The Southern Baptist Convention Executive Committee released the December

2023 financial summary on Jan. 9, 2024, reporting that monthly gifts to SBC causes through the Cooperative Program were down 2.52 percent, while designated gifts were up

5.38 percent, when compared to December 2022.

Year-to-date giving through both funding channels showed similar trends:

from the three largest insurers of faith-based organizations in the state (Church Mutual, Brother-hood Mutual and Guide-One). In response, the Louisiana Baptist Convention launched a successful effort with the state legislature to establish a church self-insurance trust that is open to congregations of all faith traditions.

Former state Sen. Robert Mills, with co-sponsor Sen. Katrina Jackson, championed Senate Bill 147, which was signed into law as Act 259, that authorizes churches and other faith-based organizations to form a self-insurance cooperative. There are no doctrinal components to the program and churches will not be tied to each other religiously. Each will be an individual member of the self-insurance trust, like a customer of any insurance company.

LOOKING FORWARD

Louisiana Baptist Executive Director Steve Horn said the self-insurance trust offers hope for churches to obtain coverage, secure complete protection of property and the likelihood of reduced premiums.

"Many of the churches in Louisiana face the real threat of not being able to build back when, not if, the next hurricane comes," Horn told the Baptist Message. "I'm not willing to sit back and let that occur. So, we are at work to create a viable alternative to traditional insurance that will remove this threat to sharing the Gospel in our state.

"Please make sure your congregation submits your insurance data to help us craft a risk profile for the state and move forward in launching this critical assistance to churches," he added.

Kelly: Pastors must deal with personal pain

By Brian Blackwell Message staff writer

RUSTON, La. (LBM) – Pastors must deal with personal pain so they will not move to the point of disconnection, Northeast and Morehouse Baptist Associational Missions Strategist Steven Kelly said during a time of testimony for the 2024 Louisiana Baptist Evangelism Conference, Jan. 23.

Kelly shared about how God helped him through the pain of dealing with the Aug. 21, 2018, death of his newborn grandson, Elijah Kelly.

Elijah weighed four pounds, 13 ounces when he was born, June 6, 2018. Two days later, the doctors diagnosed him with hypoplastic left heart syndrome, a rare condition that left the newborn with only three of four chambers of his heart working properly.

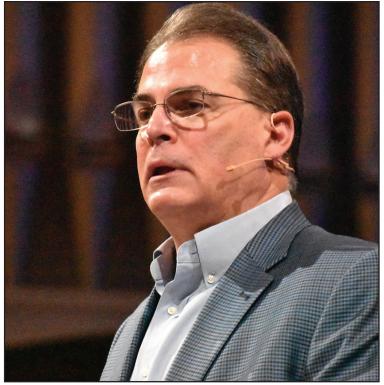

In the ensuing months, the baby endured open-heart surgery, brain bleeding, kidney dialysis and countless injections at Children's Hospital in New Orleans.

On the day Elijah died, Kelly was attending a conference. He received a call that he needed to come to the hospital and arrived in time to spend four hours with family members in Elijah's room before he passed.

Kelly said he did not become angry with God, but that he did have to deal with great pain -- a pain that he has ministered to many times in others as a pastor.

"We talk about leaving sin, reaching people for Jesus and reaching the next generation, but lots of times in churches we don't talk about people's pain," he said. "We've got churches full of people that love Jesus but many of them are disappointed in Jesus. Many of them are discouraged in Jesus because they were not able to get over pain.

"What does the pastor do when the miracle doesn't last?" he continued. "Jesus is still Lord when the miracle doesn't last. The Gospel is still the Gospel when the miracle doesn't last. The calling is still the calling when the miracle doesn't last. When you're disappointed, God is still on the throne."

Billingsley talks medical battles, safeguarding his Christian character

By Brian Blackwell Message staff writer

RUSTON, La. (LBM) Charles Billingsley has faced several medical battles, but with each trial he remained focused on praising God who eventually gave him victory, he shared with the Baptist Message in an exclusive interview, Jan. 23.

In 2007, Billingsley nearly lost his voice after a blood vessel burst on his vocal cords, leaving him with a polyp and unable to sing for several months. Then, in 2020, he spent Easter quarantined with COVID. Through those times, Billingsley said he rediscovered God's gift of worship.

'I remember I went up into the Blue Ridge Mountains (in 2007) and sat at a picnic table when I was reading a book by my friend David Jeremiah called 'A Bend in the Road,' and I couldn't make any noise," he said while at the 2024 Louisiana Baptist Evangelism Conference.

'But it's crazy because in the midst of all that reading I was just crying out to God asking Him to heal my voice that I would be able to sing again. And in the middle of reading -- while I was out in the middle of the woods -- this big old huge maple leaf just came and landed right smack dab in the middle of my Bible, right as I was crying out to the Lord. And I just felt like the Lord was basically using that little falling leaf to remind me that He's ever present, He's ever sure, that He was going to heal my voice, and that I would have a new season of power and worship more than ever. And sure enough, it happened.

"And then several years later I ended up in the hospital with COVID and once again the Lord just kind of renewed my heart and spirit on this whole gift of worship because my voice was fine this time,' he said. "But this time, I couldn't get the air in my lungs. And once again God just showed me how dependent I am on Him for everything, even the smallest thing in our lives, like taking a breath of air. And it reminded me again of how Jesus is so right when he says, apart from me, you can do nothing.

'In COVID, not only did he finally heal my body but what he healed first was my spirit and my soul," he continued. "And once again I had to learn how to worship the Lord all over again. You don't learn how to worship the Lord from a mountaintop. You always learn how to worship the Lord from the depths of the valley."

BI-VO WINNER: Austin thankful to return to 'where it all began'

By Brian Blackwell

Message staff writer

DUPONT, La. (LBM) – Kenneth Austin saw the 'Master Builder' breathe life into First Baptist Church, Dupont, when he was pastor from 1998-2004, and God recently called him to help rebuild the church.

"Anytime you return to a church you have been a part of and been successful, it's a special feeling," Austin told the Baptist Message. "I've never built the church on my own. People say 'God's a church builder' and I've been blessed to see Him build First Baptist Dupont, and I believe He can do it again."

Austin, who also worked for more than 30 years in power plant maintenance and several years as a nurse, recently was named a 2023 Louisiana Baptist Convention Exemplary Bi-vocational Pastor of the Year for his dedication to ministry.

A native of Dupont, Austin was 11 years old when he surrendered his heart to Christ during a service at Winbourne Avenue Baptist Church, Baton Rouge.

Nineteen years later, Austin preached his first message to FBC Dupont -- with just four people in attendance.

By the time he left six years later, attendance had grown to 47 through the simple but yet effective method of members extending a personal invitation to attend worship.

Later, he served as pastor at Bayou Plaquemine appearing at more than 3,200 concerts, recording 24 songs as a solo artist and landing seven No. 1 inspirational radio hits.

Billingsley said he never dreamed he would have such a fulfilling career that began off a dare from his friends to sing in high school.

"I honestly wake up every day still shocked and surprised that this is what I get to do for a living," he said. "It's funny because even the very first time I sang that first solo in front of all my peers something felt very natural about it. And so, it's just been what I've done.

"But over the years, you don't really get tired of the work, but you do get tired in the work. And sometimes you can have discouraging nights or be a part of a conference or something that didn't go like you hoped and all that. But honestly, I enjoy every second of it, I enjoy every note that I get to sing. And I'm very grateful, specifically for the Southern Baptist Convention, because it is truly these Baptist churches that have been so incredibly faithful to me, that it has given me longevity in my career, and I'm very grateful."

GUARDING HIS CHRISTAIN WITNESS

When he is on the road, Billingsley has instituted safeguards to battle temptations.

'There's a boundary in my life that is an imaginary line around my life that I just keep, and I don't allow myself to go outside those boundaries," he said. "Once it's a principle in your life, and you get used to abiding by those principles, and you really begin to consider the cost and the price that you pay personally if you do go outside of those boundaries, then you have to ask yourself is it really worth that if I do this?

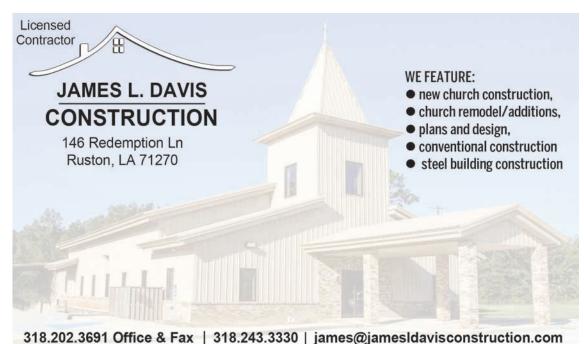

"I've had all kinds of opportunities to mess up, but thankfully, the Lord's kept me from it," he continued. "But I think the main thing is you have to keep those guardrails up especially in two different situations. First of all, when you've had a great victory, like after we have a huge night or a big conference. That's when you tend to throw down your guard and when Satan is likely to attack. Also, when you're heavily fatigued or tired, these are also moments when Satan is on his attack. So, I have to be very careful in those two instances every time I'm on the road to make sure that my guard is up, and that I am well defended and protected in those moments."

BALANCING LIFE ON ROAD, FAMILY TIME

When his two sons were younger, Billingsley was on the road up to 230 nights a year and nearly lost his family. But Billing-

Baptist Church (2004-2016), First Baptist Church, Simmesport (2016-2018) and the Church at Marksville (2018-2022), before "unretiring" and returning to FBC Dupont in September 2023. Austin hopes to once again see the church, which averages 15 in worship, revitalized again.

"I had retired but said I will give it a shot, again," he said. "Just like the first time when I was pastor, I believe God can grow this church again and He did that with reaching out to people one at a time.

I think that the importance of ministry is the fact that when people know that you care, that's very important to your outreach. Word gets around that this guy really does love people and cares about his church, and they are then inclined to come."

Louisiana Baptist Associational Missions Strategist William Housley said Austin has been a faithful servant and model for other pastors.

"The greatest attributes of his character are his unwavering faith and his ability to stand up for the Kingdom," he said. "Kenneth is loved and respected by the fellowships he has served. His recognition for outstanding bi-vocational pastor is a result of a life well lived."

SBC CP from page one _____

— From Oct. 1, 2023, through Dec. 31, 2023, total SBC CP contributions were 1.41 percent lower compared to the same quarter for the previous fiscal year.

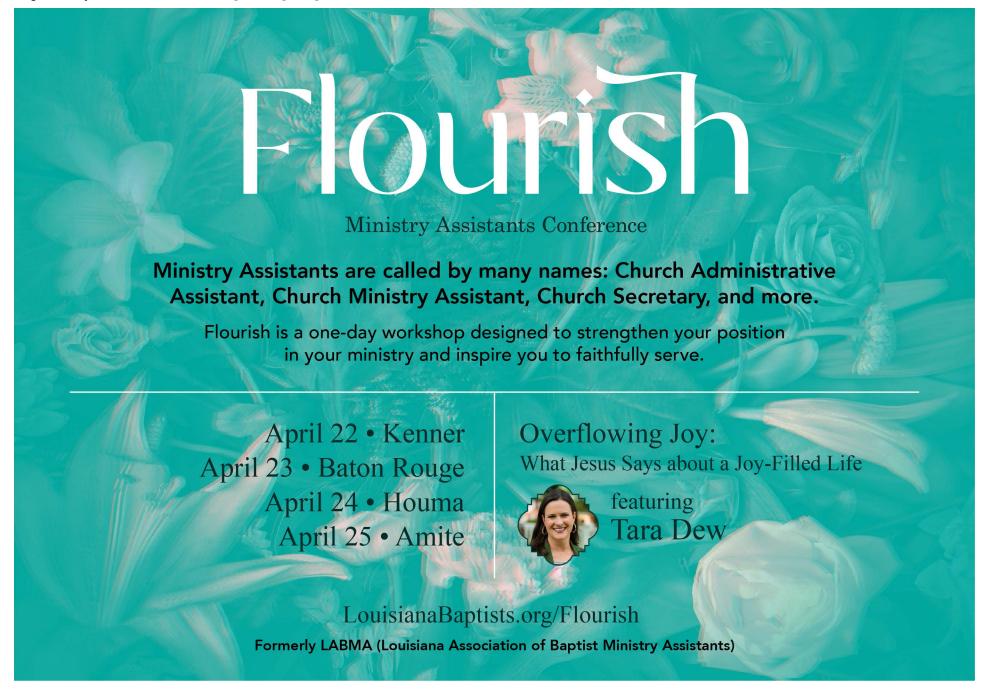

— Meanwhile, combined designated giving was 4.16 percent higher for the same months, with the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering up 1.82 percent, and the Annie Armstrong Easter Offering 10.83 percent higher, respectively.

LBC Giving

The national report showed monthly giving by Louisiana Baptists to SBC causes in December was down 16.20 percent through CP and up 19.58 percent for special offerings.

Cumulatively for the quarter, Louisiana Baptists' Fiscal Year 2024 contributions were lower by 11.80 percent through the CP and off 0.59 percent via designated giving.

- -- every believer is going to be considered a witness;-- it will be believed ev- erybody can be saved;
  -- the Holy Spirit always is at work;

- -- every Scripture points to Jesus;
- -- every decision is progressing towards discipleship;

-- every decision is celebrated but the church cannot settle on reaching just that one person; and

-- the community must be saturated with the Gospel.

"When there is a culture of evangelism, we are going to believe that God is at work," he said. "We are going to believe God is always at work in ways we do not see, in ways we cannot see. But in those moments, we have to believe by faith that God is at work."

Horn said for a culture of evangelism to become reality, Louisiana Baptists must talk about how to develop it, must talk to God about it through prayer and must talk to those who need evangelized.

He emphasized that of the 4.6 million people living in Louisiana, 70 percent are without a relationship with Jesus.

"Louisiana Baptists, there may be different methodologies, there may be different options to rescue those who are dying and going to hell," he said. "One of the options can't be 'Let's just let them go to Hell.' Let's spend the rest of our days going after, first of all, Louisiana, then our nation and the world."

JAMES PRITCHARD

James Pritchard, pastor of First Baptist Church, Lafayette, pleaded with the crowd to have a passion for evangelism. Drawing from Psalm 126:5-6, Pritchard said that evangelism is both hard work coupled with entrusting that work to Christ with weeping.

Pritchard shared that the time of greatest growth in the Southern Baptist Convention had a direct correlation to a focus on evangelism.

"We have few evangelists today," he said. "We have few revivals today. We have few visitation programs today. And we wonder why we have few baptisms today. Frankly, it's because we are not getting to work."

Pritchard argued that Jesus had a hot heart for souls and if we ae walking with Jesus, our hearts would be hot as well. "Jesus said, 'Follow me and I will make you fishers of men," he said. "If we are not fishing for men, can we honestly say we are following Christ?"

JEFF GINN

Jeff Ginn, vice president of mobilization at the International Mission Board and former pastor of Istrouma Baptist Church, Baton Rouge, encouraged the crowd to "go and tell" others about Christ.

Summarizing 2 Kings 7,

Ginn said four lepers went from being miserable without hope to missionaries.

He asked the crowd three questions to consider about sharing the Gospel: Why sit here until we die? Why sit here while they die? Why sit here since He died?

"Not everyone is going to respond to our witness," he said. "If we will be faithful, there will be fruit on other occasions."

PRESTON NIX

Southern Baptists need to return to being a soul-winning denomination, said Preston Nix, professor of evangelism and evangelistic preaching and director of the Leavell Center for Evangelism and Church Health for New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

"We are called to be fishers of men," Nix said. "So, we need to get out and fish."

Basing his message on John 1:40-42, Nix told the crowd they need to be intentional about sharing their faith; they must connect with people; communicate the Gospel; and call for response.

He said the biggest struggle for sharing the Gospel is overcoming fear of sharing the Gospel, yet that can be overcome.

"Boldness in evangelism is going one step beyond your comfort level to share what you need to share about Jesus," he said.

He closed his message with a three-fold challenge: be a more faithful, consistent, verbal, bold witness; help lead your church to be more faithful and consistent in sharing the Gospel; and do whatever it takes to get people to Jesus.

DEAN REGISTER

Dean Register, founding pastor of Crosspoint Community Church, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, told the crowd that God wants to refine them so He can develop His character in them.

Sharing from 1 Kings 18, Register said all the biblical heroes such as Elijah had their own flaws. He then asked the audience: What struggles drive them to a cave of retreat? What truth can they learn in the cave? What fresh focus can they take from the cave?

"God takes you through a refining process and it hurts," he said. "And we know that the person who would walk close to God will always be refined exquisitely by God. God keeps the furnace of sanctification to a degree that will remove all the contaminants and He never lowers the heat until He sees the reflection of Himself in that."

He encouraged them not to let their own flaws keep them for persevering and sharing the Gospel.

"If we quit, we will never evangelize the state of Louisiana," he said. "That's why it's so important for us to persevere."

THOMAS HAMMOND

Thomas Hammond, executive director of the Georgia Baptist Mission Board, urged the crowd to do like Peter in Acts 3:1-12 and see the need, get involved and step out in faith.

Hammond said Peter had walked by a lame beggar multiple times, but on one particular day he was filled with the Holy Spirit and noticed the man. In that moment, Peter healed him.

"Peter is not only seeing his world differently, but he is seeing himself differently," he said. "The Holy Spirit said stop and Peter couldn't move.

"Have you ever had that moment where you are somewhere doing something, minding your own business, and the Holy Spirit said, 'Speak to that person'? The Lord says, 'Right now.' In that moment, the Holy Spirit will give you the words to say."

JOHN AVANT

John Avant, president of Life Action Ministries and former vice president of evangelism and spiritual awakening with the North American Mission Board, preached the final message of the conference, proclaiming that Christ followers must get desperate for God.

Then, a great revival could very well follow, Avant said.

"What's it going to take in our lives to get desperate enough to just come back to the simplicity of the Gospel?" he asked the crowd.

Sharing Jeremiah 29:4-7 and 1 Peter 2:9, Avant said this can occur when Christ followers seek peace; create beautiful things for people to see who rarely see it; proclaim Good News; and pursue holiness.

"Louisiana Baptists, it's time for the great adventure of sharing the Good News of Jesus," he said. "It's time for the great adventure that will allow us to beautify our own Babylon and renovate our own road. Nothing is stopping us. No one can hold us back. If we will simply say, 'Yes Jesus. Yes Jesus. Yes Jesus. Yes Jesus. It's time for an adventure with you."

SENIOR ADULT LUNCHEON

About 375 people gathered for the Senior Adult Luncheon just before the Tuesday afternoon session, which featured special music by Billingsley and Tim Lovelace.

Lovelace also invoked comedy and a few encouraging words.

Sharing Exodus 14:15-16, Lovelace challenged the senior adults to move forward despite setbacks they may face.

sley said he hired someone to become his life coach, who helped him balance life on the road and at home.

'He helped me find some balance and things are much better now," he said. "But I tell you, the secret to that deal is learning how to say 'No' to the good things so that you can say 'Yes' to the best thing. And that is probably the hardest challenge I ever had in my life. My wife, Shae, helps me determine which ones are the best things and which ones are the good things."

PRAYERS NEEDED

Billingsley asked for prayer that he would remain pure and holy before

"Another thing would be to pray for my family and work balance and for the health of my voice and ministry so that I can have quite a bit of longevity. I don't plan on quitting anytime soon.'

ECON 24 from page 9

'I don't know how many of you are facing health issues," he said. "Maybe you've lost a spouse or grandchildren. Sometimes in life we are not sure what to do.

"I don't know what swamp you are facing," he continued. "I don't know if you have a gator you have been looking at lately. Maybe you thought life would be a little bit different at this stage in life. Go forward. There's a time to be still and know there is a God. But sometimes we need to move a step at a time and trust."

CLOSING CHARGE

Louisiana Baptist Evangelism and Church Growth Team Director Keith Manuel issued a final charge to the

"We gather to grow, and we scatter to sow," Manuel said. "It's time to go into the fields. Lift up your eyes, they are white unto the harvest. It's time to plant the seeds of

Scripture Crypto

The Scripture Crypto is a Bible verse in which one letter has been substituted for another, thus encoding the verse. To find out what the verse is, you must determine what each letter is a substitute for. An "a," for example, may stand for a "t" in this week's issue of the ScriptureCrypto. Next week, "a" could stand for a "d." Each week, each letter is different. Solve by trial and error. The answer will be given next week. Note: All numerals, such as those in the scripture reference after the verse, are spelled out.

2023 YEAR-END COOPERATIVE PROGRAM GIVING

It Just Means More

REPORT

If you're a football fan as I am, you may be familiar with the tag line, "it just means more." This phrase is used by the SEC to promote the competitive toughness of the league. The idea is that each week is a battle, and because it's a battle, surviving and winning in the SEC "just means more" because of the price paid to secure the victory.

As I reflect over the generosity of your church and other Louisiana Baptist congregations over the last year that phrase, "it just means more" comes to mind. I know you've paid more for everything. I understand that sometimes you've had to make hard decisions because of this reality. I'm very aware that many of our churches have had their insurance cancelled or the premiums have increased to a point where the church budget can no longer cover the expense. The cost of ministry continues to climb, while the offerings often do not.

And yet ...

... despite the escalating costs of doing ministry, you have been faithful to love lost people and support cooperative missions and ministries in Louisiana and beyond through the Cooperative Program.

This insert contains the records of your Cooperative Program gifts received in 2023. Please review what's been recorded and if you have any questions, please email Accounting@LouisianaBaptists.org or call 318-448-3402 and ask for the accounting office.

I'm grateful every year for your generosity, but this year, "it just means more" because of your faithfulness to God's Great Commission in the midst of challenging economic times.

Gratefully His and Yours,

Dr. Steve Horn

Steve HornExecutive Director, Louisiana Baptists

Celebrating 100 years of Gospel Impact

Cooperative Program gifts are distributed per the approved allocations with 42% going to State Missions Services, 21% to Louisiana Baptist entities and 37% forwarded to SBC causes.

Some churches have directed their gifts be allocated directly to Louisiana Baptist causes. In addition to allocations for Louisiana Baptist entities, this column also reflects gifts to the Louisiana Hunger Offering, Disaster Relief, the Georgia Barnette Louisiana Missions Offering and Here for You.

The purpose of this report is to provide greater accountability and a truer picture of the gifts God provides through the churches.

If you have any questions regarding the figures reported, email Accounting@LouisianaBaptists.org or call the accounting office.

MAXIMIZING GOSPEL IMPACT THROUGH ...

BAPTIST COLLEGIATE MINISTRIES

Over 4,000 students are involved in BCM's across 35 campuses every week. Last year, at least 270 students indicated they gave their hearts to Christ!
